

Create and configure lightweight, reproducible, and portable development environments.

Packer is a tool for creating machine and container images for multiple platforms from a single source configuration.

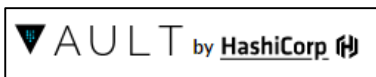

Serf is a decentralized solution for cluster membership, failure detection and orchestration. Lightweight and highly available.

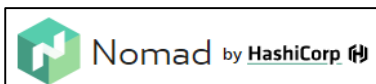

Service discovery and configuration made easy. Distributed, highly available and datacenter aware.

Terraform provides a common configuration to launch infrastructure — from physical and virtual servers to email and DNS providers.

A tool for managing secrets. Vault secures, stores, and tightly controls access to tokens, passwords, certificates, API keys, and other secrets in modern computing.

Easily deploy applications at any scale. A Distributed, Highly Available, Datacenter-Aware Scheduler

